As leaders of their communities, the Boys & Girl Scouts hold generations of accomplishments in character building and community support.

Generations Against Bullying (GAB) and the Scouts have joined together to help learn the characteristics of an Upstander to prevent and stop bullying behavior, and earn an Upstander Patch.

The Upstander activities will help your Scouts learn, inform, prepare, prevent and become Upstanders in their Scouting events, schools and community.

The Upstanders skills will inspire the Scouts to spread the message and influence others to become Upstanders, ultimately creating a positive school climate and providing a school of inclusion.

Through empowerment, confidence, team-building, communication skills, citizenship and empathy, the Scouts will learn to become Upstanders which will create a safer, healthier, and a positive learning environment for all the Scouts and students.

The Upstander activities will help your Scouts learn, inform, prepare, prevent and become Upstanders in their Scouting events, schools and community.

The Upstanders skills will inspire the Scouts to spread the message and influence others to become Upstanders, ultimately creating a positive school climate and providing a school of inclusion.

Through empowerment, confidence, team-building, communication skills, citizenship and empathy, the Scouts will learn to become Upstanders which will create a safer, healthier, and a positive learning environment for all the Scouts and students.
This is simple. Sign up your Troop today and it costs zero to participate in earning your Upstander Patch and learn about the Upstander Challenges.

Troop Media Stream Caster programs are a troop level extra-curriculum activity meant for the whole troop to participate in capturing stories, news and special events.

Participate in the Upstander Network’s Scouting Outdoor Challenges. This is an opportunity to appear on the Upstander TV Channel.

In Generations Against Bullying’s effort to end bullying it starts with the Upstander Peer-to-Peer Program. The same citizen principles the Scouts historically strive to accomplish!